Your rainboots are on, the frogs are croaking, and your soil is wet and ready for some plants! Read on for our recommendations of water-loving plants that are sure to love this wet season to come.

Helenium puberulum
(rosilla)
1 gallon @ $11.95
TB5 @ $6.95

- Adorably round flowers on long stems that start off bright yellow and deepen into a maroon-purple color.
- Often seen along streambanks, this Helenium will flourish in moist to wet conditions.

Cornus sericea
(red osier dogwood)
TP4 @ $15.95
1G @ $11.95

- If you have room for a small tree, consider this fast growing and softly fragrant dogwood!
- Their cream-colored lacey flowers add interest in the Spring, and the strikingly red stems are beautiful during their fall dormancy.
