If you have a rocky garden, a retaining wall with some gaps in it, or even a few stepping stones, this newsletter is for you!

Read on for suggestions for rocky gardens of various sun and water needs.

Sedum spathulifolium 'purpureum'
(Pacific stonecrop)
4 inch @ $10.95

- A beautifully uncommon color to find in the garden, this succulent will thrive in a mostly sunny spot with room to spread.
- Perfectly fit for a rock wall or garden, or in a container if you are short on space!

Heuchera maxima
(island alumroot)
TB5 @ $6.95, 1G @ 11.95

- Enjoy the foliage display on this pretty perennial as the leaf colors change from vibrant greens into peachy and rosy red tones.
- Adaptable to different sun and water needs, Heuchera will be happiest in a shadier spot and in rocky soil with good drainage.

Coastal Rock Gardens

Many of our coastal natives are well equipped to grow in minimal soil and with little water. Which makes them perfect for an at home rock garden!

Eriogonum latifolium

(seaside buckwheat)

TB5 @ 6.95

- Commonly seen around the coasts of Santa Cruz, this buckwheat can tolerate life on the rocky and windy cliffs- and will also grow well in any part of your garden with good drainage!
- Plant this if you would like long lasting pinkish clusters of flowers that seem to attract every pollinator in the near vicinity!

Eriophyllum staechadifolium

(seaside woolly sunflower)

TB5 @ $6.95

- You may recognize this Eriophyllum if you enjoy walks along the coast - it becomes nice and bushy and has a prolific display of bright yellow flowers.
- Plant this one anywhere with good sun and good drainage, and don't worry about watering it once it's established.

Bonus! Strawberry Sale

Fragaria vesca
(woodland strawberry)
TB5 @ $1.95,
Full flat of 49 @ $75.00
OR
Buy 2 flats for $100.00!

- It's hard to go wrong with our native woodland strawberry. Give it a spot with a bit shade and a moderate amount of water, and watch it spread its runners all around your yard!
- Though their fruits are small, they are very delicious. At the nursery we can't stop snacking on them all summer!
